The Cigna Group Employee Political Action Committee Annual Report	13

Introduction

At The Cigna Group, we were privileged to support customers, patients, clients and partners as they navigated a dynamic environment in 2022. We continued to be guided by our mission to improve the health, well-being and peace of mind of all those we serve.

We are committed to making health care better for all, and this includes driving improvements for a sustainable health care system. In support of these efforts, The Cigna Group actively engages with policy makers in a principle-based, nonpartisan way. In The Cigna Group's 2022 Political Contribution and Lobbying Activity Report, you'll find information about our engagement through political contributions and advocacy, including the annual report of the The Cigna Group Employee Political Action Committee (The Cigna Group Employee PAC).

Health provides the foundation individuals, organizations and communities need to thrive with vitality. We will continue to share our insights and perspective as we advance our work and support coworkers across our company who are driving us forward to make a positive impact in lives around the world.

Overview and governance

All of The Cigna Group's government relations activities are nonpartisan and intended to be constructive, principle based and solution oriented.

The Cigna Group's mission and business strategy dictate our public policy priorities and engagement in the political process through directly advocating; commenting on public policy proposals and developing suggestions; participating in coalitions and associations; and making political contributions as permissible by law. Our approach strives to build consensus and forge alliances among diverse stakeholders, starting from common ground and guided by data and insights, on issues in which we have relevant expertise to lend and an ability to shape the public dialogue.

The Corporate Governance Committee of The Cigna Group's Board of Directors has oversight of and evaluates any material risks associated with The Cigna Group's political spending and lobbying activities. In addition, the Corporate Governance Committee biannually reviews compliance with The Cigna Group's Political Activity Policy, including the contributions made under that policy by the company and The Cigna Group Employee PAC during the previous year, and annually reviews lobbying expenses and trade association memberships.

Political contributions

The Cigna Group regularly supports federal, state and local officials as well as candidates, parties, and other politically oriented groups and organizations that the company believes can advance its mission, business objectives and goals, including principles or issues that support The Cigna Group's vision for a sustainable health care system.

As The Cigna Group considers making political contributions, it is always guided by the company's mission and strategy, demonstrating an eagerness to work with officials of various political and philosophical beliefs and without regard for the private political preferences of its executives.

The Cigna Group has strict standards governing its political giving activity, and all its contributions are made in accordance with the company's Political Activity

Policy and applicable state and federal laws. The vast majority of the company's political contributions are made through The Cigna Group Employee PAC, which is funded through the voluntary contributions of eligible employees. In very limited circumstances, corporate funds may be used for political contributions; these require prior approval by the Senior Vice President of Global Public Policy and Federal Government Affairs, the Senior Vice President of State Government Affairs, and, in certain circumstances, the Chief Executive Officer and General Counsel. The company keeps the work of The Cigna Group Employee PAC separate from other company giving. Accordingly, this section of the report provides information specific to The Cigna Group's direct corporate contributions, and the The Cigna Group Employee PAC Annual Report at the end of this document provides contribution details for disbursements made through The Cigna Group Employee PAC.

The Cigna Group also contributed $10,000 to Secure Our Future in support of a ballot measure that would benefit Miami-Dade County Public School teachers and schools safety officers.

The Cigna Group did not make any independent expenditures in 2022.

Lobbying activities and priorities

The Cigna Group's Federal and State Government Affairs and Global Public Policy teams lead The Cigna Group's engagement in complex policy matters that are aligned to business priorities.

Members of the team represent The Cigna Group's views to the U.S. Congress and Executive Branch: state regulators and elected officials; thought leaders; and industry associations. Consistent with our commitment to thoughtful and constructive engagement in public dialogues around the world, we strive to advance public policy proposals that we believe will achieve the goals for the U.S. health care system.

Health care policy debates are continuously evolving, requiring ongoing constructive engagement in meaningful and sustained advocacy to help improve the American health care system to be more affordable, predictable, simple and equitable for all those we serve. The Cigna Group's advocacy efforts focus on proposals that improve affordability and access; increase flexibility for patients, employers and providers; expand the employer-based market's ability to provide innovative, value-based health coverage; align incentives around the patient to help support their health care and value-based care decisions: increase opportunities for public-private partnerships; and enable a more integrated, equitable service model that addresses. whole-person health.

The Senior Vice President of Global Public Policy and Federal Government Affairs and the Senior Vice President of State Government Affairs report directly to the General Counsel and review lobbying efforts with The Cigna Group's enterprise leadership, including the Chief Executive Officer. on a regular basis.

In 2022, The Cigna Group spent $8.6 million on federal lobbying expenses and approximately $3.3 million on state lobbying expenses. The Cigna Group files federal lobbying reports quarterly with the Office of the Clerk of the U.S. House of Representatives and the Secretary of the U.S. Senate, pursuant to the federal Lobby Disclosure Act. To review the quarterly federal filings, click here and enter "Cigna" in the name search field.

The Cigna Group files state lobbying reports with the appropriate state governing agencies in compliance with the requirements in respective states. These reports are publicly available in the respective jurisdictions and disclose the required lobbying information.

Trade associations and memberships

The Cigna Group is a member of several trade associations that represent the health care industry as well as the larger business community to bring about consensus on health care policy issues that can impact key business priorities.

While The Cigna Group recognizes that many of the trade associations in which it participates have broad memberships with sometimes differing views, the company believes that such organizations can encourage dialogue on important policy issues, constructively engage differing perspectives and ultimately help identify shared solutions. Trade associations play a significant role in policy advocacy, and The Cigna Group believes membership in these organizations is generally consistent with the company's interests, including those of its shareholders, clients, customers, providers and patients.

All memberships in trade associations are reviewed by the General Counsel and the Chief Executive Officer, and certain dues paid to these organizations may be used to directly support lobbying activity.

About The Cigna Group Employee PAC

The Cigna Group Employee PAC is a federal political action committee, a separate, segregated fund established and operated by The Cigna Group, that is funded entirely by voluntary contributions from eligible employees and regulated by federal and/or state governments.

The Cigna Group has also established separate but related state political action committees in Missouri (The Cigna Group Employee MO PAC) and New York (The Cigna Group NY PAC), which are referenced collectively in this report as The Cigna Group Employee PAC unless otherwise noted.

The Cigna Group Employee PAC supports candidates who advance public policies that are aligned to The Cigna Group's business priorities. Proposed contributions are reviewed in advance and approved by the The Cigna Group Employee PAC Board of Directors, which is composed of executive and nonexecutive business leaders. Contributions are made in accordance with the company's Political Activity Policy, The Cigna Group Employee PAC Articles of Organization and contribution guidelines. In addition to a candidate's or committee's position on business priorities, The Cigna Group Employee PAC considers criteria such as a candidate's committee assignments, our employee or business presence in a state or district, and candidate viability and leadership potential. The Cigna Group Employee PAC does not make contributions based on a candidate's or committee's stance on any one issue or on any one vote. In addition, a contribution does not imply that the company's priorities align with every policy, position, statement or vote made by that individual policy maker or committee. The Cigna Group Employee PAC also supports national and state party committees as well as other political action committees and organizations. It does not participate in presidential primary or general election contests.

The Cigna Group Employee PAC is committed to transparency regarding its activities. The Cigna Group obeys all laws in promoting its positions to government authorities, and all contributions made by The Cigna Group Employee PAC comply with all applicable campaign finance regulations.

In 2022, The Cigna Group Employee PAC did not support any independent expenditures or ballot measures.

Set forth on the following pages are the political contributions made in 2022 by The Cigna Group Employee PAC.
