The past year was a defining one for Cigna as an organization, and for the entire health care industry.

We are at an inflection point in health care in the United States and the stakes couldn't be higher. Health spending continues to increase, while Americans continue to get sicker. All of this constricts economic growth, which forces employers to choose between providing benefits or creating jobs. Ultimately American families pay the price. It is indisputable that a transformative change in health care is needed to further evolve the U.S. system and meet the needs of today's consumers.

In 2019, we brought together the best capabilities of Cigna, Express Scripts and eviCore to build a more sustainable model of health service delivery. As a result, we are becoming an even greater force for driving positive change, and furthering our vision of greater affordability, quality and predictability for our customers, patients and communities.

As the political debate around health care intensifies, we remain committed to addressing today's dynamic health care environment through active, principle-based, nonpartisan engagement with policy makers in Washington, DC, as well as at the state and local levels. Whether it is critically important topics such as broadening approaches to drug pricing and transparency; addressing the underlying drivers of health care costs; or expanding the bright spots within our current system – largely within the employer-based system and Medicare Advantage – there has never been a more important time for Cigna to be a powerful and reliable voice in the dialogue.

In Cigna's 2019 Political Contribution and Lobbying Activity Report, you'll find details about our political contributions, advocacy efforts and the annual report of the Cigna Political Action Committee (CignaPAC). This report details how we translate our mission into constructive engagement and advocacy with elected officials.

In 2020, Cigna will remain a strong advocate in the public policy arena for a health care system that is affordable and sustainable for our approximately 170 million valued customer relationships. As the leading global health service company, we remain committed to improving the health, well-being and peace of mind of those we serve.

Overview and Governance

Cigna takes its engagement in the legislative, regulatory and public policy areas very seriously, approaching all our efforts with care and integrity. There are two major components of Cigna's political activity: (1) political contributions and (2) lobbying efforts. This report is organized to provide information on both of these activities.

As Cigna engages in political activity, it adheres to strict governance standards designed to ensure alignment with Cigna's mission and strategic goals. All political contributions that are made directly by the Company must be made in accordance with Political Activity and Government Contacts policy, which requires, among other things, oversight of decisions at the highest corporate level. Political contributions that are made through CignaPAC are reviewed and approved by the CignaPAC board, comprised of executive-level Cigna leadership and other business leaders, in accordance with the CignaPAC Contribution Guidelines.

With respect to the Company's lobbying activities, the Vice President of Global Public Policy and Federal Government Affairs and the Vice President of State Government Affairs report directly to the General Counsel and review lobbying efforts with Cigna's enterprise leadership, including the Chief Executive Officer, on a regular basis. Additionally, all memberships in trade associations are reviewed by the General Counsel and the Chief Executive Officer.

The Company also maintains an Enterprise Risk Management function. This company-wide initiative involves the Board (and its committees), Cigna's management, Cigna's Chief Risk Officer and General Auditor, and Cigna's internal audit function. Together, they work in an integrated effort to (1) identify, assess, prioritize and monitor (as each of their roles dictates) a broad range of risks (e.g., financial, operational, business, compliance, reputational, governance and managerial), and (2) formulate and execute plans to monitor and, to the extent possible, mitigate the effect of those risks.

Within this enterprise risk framework, the Corporate Governance Committee of Cigna's Board of Directors has oversight of and evaluates any material financial, legal, reputational or other risks associated with Cigna's corporate political spending and lobbying activities. In addition, the Corporate Governance Committee biannually reviews compliance with Cigna's Political Activity and Government Contacts policy, including the contributions made under that policy by the Company during the previous year, and annually reviews lobbying expenses and trade association memberships.

Political Contributions

Cigna regularly supports federal, state and local officials, candidates, parties and other politically oriented groups and organizations that the Company believes can advance its mission, business objectives and goals, including principles or issues that support Cigna's vision for a sustainable health care system. As Cigna considers making political contributions, it is always guided by the Company's strategy and mission, demonstrating an eagerness to work with officials of various political and philosophical beliefs and without regard for the private political preferences of its executives.

Cigna makes political contributions in two ways: (1) corporate contributions and (2) through CignaPAC. Cigna has strict standards in place governing its political giving activity, and all its contributions are made in accordance with applicable state and federal laws. In addition, the Company keeps the work of the CignaPAC separate from other Company giving. Accordingly, this section of the report provides information specific to Cigna's direct corporate contributions, and the CignaPAC Annual Report at the end of the report provides information regarding contributions made through CignaPAC.

Lobbying Activity and Priorities

Our colleagues and our communities look to Cigna leaders for thoughts and suggestions on how to advance the goals of an accessible, affordable and sustainable health care system for all Americans. As a company, we believe we have a responsibility to engage in principle-based conversations relative to public policy.

There has never been a more important time for us to engage with policy makers in the United States to create and advance reforms that will achieve those goals for the U.S. health care system.

Cigna's State and Federal Government Affairs and Global Public Policy teams lead the company's engagement in complex policy matters while maintaining Cigna's commitment to being a thoughtful and constructive participant in public dialogues around the world. Members of the team represent Cigna's business interests in the U.S. Congress, Executive Branch, and with national thought leaders, trade associations and state legislatures, to advance constructive solutions and reorient others that we believe will not achieve the goals of affordable, high-quality coverage for all Americans.

In 2019, Cigna focused its advocacy efforts on advancing public policies that we believe best achieve those goals. Such policies include strengthening flexibility and expanding access to employer-provided coverage; aligning incentives and information around the patient to help support their health care and value-based care decisions; growing opportunities for public-private partnerships; and policies to enable a more integrated service model and whole person health.

Cigna spent $8.25 million on federal lobbying expenses and approximately $4.3 million on state lobbying expenses. Cigna complies with the requirements of the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995 (the "LDA") that govern disclosure of federal lobbying expenses. Cigna also complies with the requirements of state laws relevant to state lobbying expenses and disclosure reporting.

Trade Association Memberships

While Cigna recognizes that many of the trade associations in which it participates have broad memberships with sometimes differing views, the Company believes that such organizations can encourage dialogue on important policy issues, ultimately helping to advance industry solutions. Cigna also believes that to be effective and informed, it is important to constructively engage differing perspectives, whether we agree on all points. Active participation in industry-related trade associations is one of the ways in which to Cigna engages in public policy and legislative issues.

Because of the breadth and depth of trade association views on key health care issues, Cigna believes memberships in these organizations are generally consistent with the Company's interests, including those of its shareholders and customers.

Certain dues paid to these organizations may be used to support lobbying activity. In 2019, Cigna was a member of the following industry trade associations with more than $50,000 in annual dues and a percentage attributable to lobbying activity:

Organization	2019 Annual Dues*	Portion allocated to nondeductible lobbying expense

CignaPAC Annual Report

About CignaPAC

CignaPAC is Cigna's federal political action committee, a separate, segregated fund established and operated by Cigna, that is funded entirely by voluntary contributions from eligible employees and regulated by federal and/or state governments. Cigna has also established separate but related state political action committees in Missouri (Cigna MO PAC) and New York (Cigna NY PAC), which are referenced collectively in this report as CignaPAC unless otherwise noted. CignaPAC financially supports the election campaigns of candidates who share our views on policy issues, represent areas of geographic importance or meet other criteria deemed appropriate by the CignaPAC Board of Directors. It also engages in the process by supporting national and state party committees, as well as other political action committees and organizations.

The CignaPAC is committed to transparency regarding its activities. Cigna obeys all laws in promoting its positions to government authorities, and all contributions made by CignaPAC comply with all applicable campaign finance regulations.

After Cigna's merger with Express Scripts Holding Company in December 2018, CignaPAC and the Express Scripts Political Fund (Express Scripts PAC) have operated as separate, but affiliated political action committees. The Express Scripts PAC did not make any political disbursements in 2019. The Express Scripts Missouri PAC contributed $6,800 to the House Republican Campaign Committee in 2019.

Board Oversight

CignaPAC is governed by the CignaPAC Board of Directors, which oversees contributions made with CignaPAC funds. CignaPAC makes political contributions on behalf of Cigna's business interests pursuant to the approval process for CignaPAC contributions and in accordance with the CignaPAC Articles of Organization.

CignaPAC Contribution Strategy

CignaPAC directs contributions to candidates based on a variety of criteria, such as:

- > Committee assignments and leadership positions.
- Geographic concentration of Cigna employees in a district or state.
- Candidates' views on specific or emerging business issue(s).
- > Candidates' viability.

Contributions to state candidates are concentrated in key business states as determined by market share, health plan customer base and business revenues. Contributions are made to campaigns or initiatives consistent with Cigna's mission.

Party affiliation does not determine support. CignaPAC will support challengers over incumbents if incumbents regularly support legislation inconsistent with Cigna positions. CignaPAC does not participate in presidential primary or general election contests.

Proposed CignaPAC contributions are reviewed in advance and approved by the CignaPAC Board.

Set forth on the following pages are the political contributions made in 2019 by CignaPAC, including federal, state and municipal level, and ballot measure contributions, in addition to contributions made by the Cigna MO PAC and Cigna NY PAC.
